

EXPLANATORY NOTE TO THE CURRICULUM OF 6M010300- PEDAGOGY AND PSYCHOLOGY SPECIALITY

1. Aims and objectives of the program:

The aim of the educational program – formation of a new approach for master training on the basis of multilevel systems with different opportunities to build career paths of a teacher- psychologist, including the academic, scientific and administrative areas.

Objectives of the educational program:

- implementation of the social order of society on development and formation of the personality of the students;
- improving the quality of education in accordance with national and international standards;
- mastering of advanced psychological and educational technology and its introduction into practice;
- formation of professional ethics and management culture in education;
- organization and conducting of scientific research in pedagogy and psychology;
- providing of excellent professionalism, creative thinking ability, guaranteeing professional mobility and adaptation to the requirements of the international labor market, needs and skills of independent creative mastering of new knowledge throughout their active life.

2. For joining this educational program of magistracy the applicant must have a higher pedagogical or postgraduate education.

3. Term training program in credits ECTS - 120

4. Upon completion of educational program training the graduate should possess the following competencies:

General:

- master the basics of modern trends of psychological and educational theory and practice development;
- able to dialogue with the subjects of the educational process, owning professional voice culture; solving of arising pedagogical situation and formation of a favorable psychological climate;
- ready to implement pedagogical analysis, planning, organization, management and control in the administrative activity of educational systems.

Professional:

- able to implement a continuous, systematic education, organize the implementation of educational programs, in updating and implementation in the educational process of one's submissions about the basis of education and modern concepts, theories of learning, in the planning, design and analysis of the educational process, in decision of objectives of professional activities, personal growth in line with the personal and professional self-determination;

- own science-based methods and technologies in the psycho-pedagogical activities; information and communication technologies of the educational process;
- able to understand the causes and nature of cross-cultural differences to the analysis of interdependence, relationship of traditional forms of social organization, the use of tolerant mechanisms of communication, social interaction in a multicultural environment;
- ready to allocate actual problems of the modern system of education, training and development; possess modern technology of design and organization of scientific research in the profession; form the educational environment and use one's abilities in the realization of innovative educational policy; build management of socialization of research results;
- be skilled in management, administrative culture of a manager, professional ethics and culture management.

5. Brief description of the program and its features of training specialists on this program at your institution

The educational program is designed to prepare masters on "Pedagogy and Psychology." This program involves the assimilation of basic modules and profiling disciplines (90 ESTC). Each module consists of components of obligatory disciplines and elective disciplines component. By educational program the passage of two types of practices are provided: pedagogical, research (10 ESTC). The training is completed by defending the master's thesis (20 ESTC).

The feature of the educational program of Master training is the orientation on professional management, as justified by the global trends of economic development and education, changes in consumer demand of educational services..

Mastering of the program will allow future Master to possess innovational competencies, new social outlook, status, with the awareness of the social role in contemporary society and the education system